TREASURY WELCOMES MEC PEGGY NELISWA NKONYENI

MEC NELISWA PEGGY NKONYENI AT THE HELM OF THE PROVINCIAL TREASURY

MEC Neliswa Peggy Nkonyeni was sworn in as the MEC for Finance by Acting Judge President Madondo.

Honourable Neliswa Peggy Nkonyeni is the Member of the Executive Council responsible for the Finance portfolio in the KwaZulu-Natal provincial government.

She was previously with the Department of Transport, Community Safety and Liaison in the province between March 2021 and August 2022.

Honourable Nkonyeni served as a Member of the Executive Council for Human Settlements and Public Works between 2019 and 2022.

She is an educator by profession having obtained her qualification from Eshowe College of Education. MEC Nkonyeni has undertaken further studies at the University of the Witwatersrand, Institute for Integrative Nutrition and is currently studying towards a Master's Degree.

She has previously served as KwaZulu-Natal MEC for Health and MEC for Education as well as Speaker of the Provincial Legislature. Her other Legislature deployments have included Chairperson of Committees and Chairperson of the Women's caucus. In May 2019, she returned from her deployment from the National Assembly to a seat in the KwaZulu-Natal Provincial Legislature.

During her tenure as the MEC for Transport, Community Safety and Liaison she pioneered a number of programmes that are aimed at improving both road conditions and ensuring safety in the province. Her brain-child programme dubbed Operation Val'Amapothes saw the programme being adopted by the National Department of Transport and introduced in all 9 provinces as Operation Valazonke.

Ms. Thuli Mlawu, HOD Carol Coetzee, Mrs Idah Zwane-Dhlomo and Mrs Andile Zondo at the Legislature Sitting of the election of the Premier.

MEC Nkonyeni has a deep commitment to the eradication of poverty, inequality and unemployment and the overall transformation of the society.

In response to the devastating floods that hits many parts of the province, MEC Nkonyeni launched Operation Siyazenzela. The programme aimed at maintaining the road infrastructure using own staff and equipment to do minor repairs.

In her efforts of fighting crime she launched the programme of recruiting young graduates (law and researchers) to work with the Department of Community Safety and Liaison.

MEC Nkonyeni is the Operation Sukuma Sakhe Champion for Ilembe District and a strong advocate of the District Development Model, which is aimed at fast-tracking service delivery and ensuring that municipalities are adequately supported and resourced to carry out their mandate.

She is an advocate for the development of rural communities and empowerment of women, youth and people with disabilities as well as military veterans across all sectors.

“MEC Nkonyeni is deeply committed to the eradication of poverty, inequality, unemployment and transformation of society.”

MEC NELISWA PEGGY NKONYENI RECEIVES A WARM WELCOME FROM PROVINCIAL TREASURY

MEC Neliswa Peggy Nkonyeni was warmly welcomed by the Head of Department, Carol Coetzee and Treasury EXCO.

Pronouncing the appointment of the MEC for Finance, Premier Nomusa Dube-Ncube said that the MEC will ensure the allocation of resources to government departments as part of strengthening service delivery.

"We have agreed that Treasury must be at the forefront of ensuring the deployment of skilled accountants to departments and municipality to ensure that we save every rand and cent we have," said Premier Dube-Ncube.

The Premier said that the money must be allocated to strengthen service delivery to rebuild the province following the destruction created by the outbreak of COVID-19.

In her portfolio, MEC Nkonyeni will strengthen partnerships with organizations representing the accounting profession such as Accounting Standards Board, South African Institute of Chartered Accountants, Association of Black Accountants of Southern Africa. The Premier emphasised the importance of accountants in preventing fruitless expenditure and conserving resources, and fighting fraud, corruption and financial mismanagement.

"I often point out that several instances of this scourge have been uncovered because of the work of honest and professional accountants in our government departments. This in itself underlines the importance of this profession in the pursuit of clean governance and financial management within both government and the private sector. It is through their vigilance and maintenance of professional standards and integrity that we as government are able to allocate resources where they are needed the most," said Premier Dube-Ncube.

MEC NELISWA PEGGY NKONYENI RECEIVES A WARM WELCOME FROM PROVINCIAL TREASURY

MEC Neliswa Peggy Nkonyeni was warmly welcomed by the Head of Department, Carol Coetzee and Treasury EXCO.

The Head of Department, Ms. Carol Coetzee warmly welcomed MEC Peggy Neliswa Nkonyeni following her appointment as the MEC for Finance by Premier Nomusa Dube-Ncube.

"On behalf of the Provincial Treasury Executive Management and all staff I warmly welcome MEC Nkonyeni to the Department. MEC Nkonyeni joins a department that has positioned itself as the centre of excellence in financial and fiscal management in the province. This has been demonstrated over the years through the achievement of 13 consecutive clean audits."

The HOD said that the Treasury team thrives on excellence and will continue on this trajectory to serve the people of this province.

"We commit to working with the MEC to ensure the advancement of our key responsibility of prudent fiscal management and allocation of resources."

"MEC Nkonyeni will strengthen partnerships with organisations representing the accounting profession."

TREASURY COMMEMORATES WOMEN'S MONTH

Women's Month Event: HOD Carol Coetzee focuses on women empowerment and gender equality in the workplace.

The Head of Department, Ms. Carol Coetzee hosted a Treasury women empowerment session to mark women's month. This year, the month was celebrated under the theme: Women's Socio-Economic Rights and Empowerment – Building Back Better for Women's Resilience. As guided, this theme is a call to action to all of society, government and partners to take tangible steps forward in responding to the most persistent challenges affecting the lives of women and girls.

Whilst the nation celebrates the 66th anniversary of the over 20 000 women who fought for the emancipation of women, there are several societal dynamics that still affect women at home, and in the workplace. In addition, three years into COVID, most South Africans have not fully recovered from the disruptive strain brought by the pandemic to themselves and their families. Statistics show that women have been adversely affected, with the rise in GBV cases.

According to Treasury's Health and Wellness, based on the departmental health risk assessment obtained from GEMS and also from the internal Wellness Clinic, the state of health and wellbeing of employees in the Department both males and females indicate a level of emotional strain faced by staff which began during lockdown.

Taking into consideration the report from the Health and Wellness Unit, and aligning it with this year's theme of Building Back Better for Women's Resilience, the department took action by hosting a programme to address the issues faced by women in the workplace.

HOD Coetzee said that it is important for Treasury to take the right steps towards protecting female employees. "Gender based violence could happen to anyone, regardless of race or position. We need to create platforms for open dialogue for women to know that they are not alone. Remember you are more powerful than you think," she said.

TREASURY COMMEMORATES WOMEN'S MONTH

Ms. Nontuthuko Mashimane, Nutritionist - Evolve Genix.

Mrs. Sinikiwe Biyela, LifeLine and Rape Crisis PMB.

Dr. Winnie Ngcobo, UKZN

Mrs Thandiwe Mashimane, gave tips on longevity and wellness.

In recognition of this theme, three phenomenal external speakers were invited to address female colleagues on nutrition and well-being, gender based violence and mental health.

A day after running 90kms, nutritionist and six times comrades marathon runner, Ms. Nontuthuko Mashimane gave an important talk on nutrition and wellbeing for women's health. Open her address, she remarked: "I am here just to show how strong we are as women, after running from Maritzburg to Durban 90kms, we can get up the next day and go to work."

She said that being a healthy woman is not about getting on the scale and seeing how much you weigh. "It is about focusing on what matters, how women feel mentally and physically and managing diseases by feeding the body nutrition to strengthen the immune system," she said.

She further advised against crash diets which may result to ill-health. "What is important is following a well balanced eating plan consisting of vegetables, low sugar fruits, whole grain, and healthy fats. Your biggest wealth is good health and without it you will not enjoy your life," said Ms. Mashimane.

Mrs Sinikiwe Biyela, Director: Lifeline and Rape Crisis Pmb, revealed shocking GBV and rape statistics when she addressed the topic: Breaking the Silence on Gender Based Violence.

"The bulk of rape survivors are under the age of 12 and now boys are part of this statistics. All mothers who are here today don't think that boys are safe, because they are now being targeted. We are seeing an increase in the numbers of boys between the ages of 7 to 13 that are being raped on a daily basis."

She said that Lifeline has social workers stationed in Edendale hospital and Northdale hospital. The organisation also has social workers stationed in most police stations in uMgungundlovu district.

"Lifeline has provided social workers in victim friendly rooms, a police officer takes a statement in a safe environment, this is to encourage victims of GBV to open cases against their perpetrators." Lifeline social workers are available at victim friendly rooms in the following police stations: Loop Street, Mountain Rise, Alexandra, Mshwati, Mooi River, Howick and Mpophomeni. Lifeline gives support to victims of rape and offers free counselling in a safe environment.

Speaking on the topic, Steps to Overcoming Mental Health for Working Women, Dr Winnie Ngcobo, UKZN Mental Health Lecturer and Psychotherapist said: "Mental health has been ignored for a long time as if it does not exist or affects a few individual. Mental health includes our emotional, psychological and social wellbeing." Dr. Ngcobo encouraged Treasury employees to break the stigma associated with mental health and seek medical attention and counselling.

HOD'S 8 PRINCIPLE PLAN OF ACTION FOR WOMEN

HOD Carol Coetzee and Mrs Idah Zwane-Dhlomo chairing the annual meeting with MMS and SMS Treasury women in management.

Women empowerment and gender equality at Provincial Treasury were at the heart of the discussions during HOD Carol Coetzee's meeting with MMS and SMS women in management held in August annually.

The meeting agenda focuses on the Head of Department's 8-Principle Action Plan for Women's Empowerment and Gender Equality in the Public Service. This plan was launched in 2007, and institutionalised for implementation in 2008.

The 8-Principle Action Plan provides a framework for the advancement of women in the workplace and for evaluation of progress made in this area. Through this programme, the Head of Department is expected to systematically create an enabling environment for women empowerment and gender equality in the workplace.

In her meeting, HOD Coetzee addressed a number of issues affecting women in the workplace such as safety, sexual harassment, equality, measures to improve working conditions for females employees to name a few. This engagement also created a platform for open dialogue between the HOD and her team on the improvement of working conditions to achieve gender equality in the department.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE 8-PRINCIPLE ACTION PLAN FOR WOMEN:

1ST PRINCIPLE : TRANSFORMATION FOR NON-SEXISM

Facilitate change towards becoming more gender aware and responsive and create an enabling environment for gender equality and the fulfillment of womens rights including that of women with disabilities.

- There is clear signage within the entrances of the Department indicating zero tolerance of sexual harassment within the Department. This intent is clear to staff, visitors and service providers;
- A dedicated complaints mechanism (email address) for reporting of sexual harassment has been implemented.

NO-MEANS-NO@kzntreasury.gov.za.

- Quarterly Sexual harassment workshops have been conducted since 2015 to empower individuals especially women on their rights in this area, and to inform them that there is in fact a platform to report such behavior. Sexual Harassment and is also discussed within combined workshops for both men and women to celebrate each other, the pressures experienced in the workplace, as well as social ills, relationship challenges and health issues affecting each gender.

HOD'S 8 PRINCIPLE PLAN OF ACTION FOR WOMEN

2nd PRINCIPLE: ESTABLISHING A POLICY ENVIRONMENT

All departmental policies, regulations and procedures are analysed for and brought into line with the criteria and requirements in respect of gender responsiveness

- The Department considers and addresses the different situations, roles, needs and interests of women, men, and youth when developing policies. This was evident in staff return to work plans during the various risk adjusted levels during COVID.
- A one size fits all approach can never work in Organisations where gender transformation is being driven.
- Although policies are applicable to all, special circumstances affecting women for example are always factored into policies.
- Wellness Policies make it possible to ensure that sessions are always provided for women to balance work and family life.
- The Department encourages improving women's quality of life by ensuring monthly wellness clinics to ensure early detection and treatment guidance of lifestyle and dreaded diseases.
- Working hours policy allows for flexi starting and finishing times to cater for mothers with younger children.
- Transport policy now ensures safe accessibility to the working places from parking arcades by making official transport available in the mornings and afternoons ensuring the safety of officials, especially women.
- Affirmative Action Policy – elimination of employment barriers into practices & eradication of discrimination against women for example
- Sexual Harassment Policy – promotes a conducive working environment for all & creates a platform for such unwanted behavior to be formally/informally reported
- Succession Planning Policy- fast tracking the development of women with potential for the occupation of key positions in the Organization
- Leadership Framework – female middle managers are targeted for leadership training & programs.

Ms. Kudzai Musasiwa, Deputy Director: Risk & Advisory Services.

3rd PRINCIPLE: MEETING EQUITY TARGETS

Gender balance in programme/ project team and beneficiaries

- Department is committed to meeting targets ie 50% women at SMS and 2% PWDs.
- Department is currently at 50% women in management and 1.8% people with disabilities.
- Department has an approved EE Plan – recruitment strategies to achieve an adequately represented workforce is made possible.
- We are continuing to Target advertise – only females and PWDs for SMS positions.
- In respect of PWDs we will be reverting to advertising all entry level posts only to PWDs, and if any of them are on YDPs within the Department, adverts will be opened only to them ito AA policy.

Ms. Londiwe Japi, Director: Assurance Services.

3rd PRINCIPLE: MEETING EQUITY TARGETS

- Fully implemented Human Resource Development Strategic Framework – Paves the way & fast-tracks women empowerment into skills development and career pathing.
- The Department has successfully implemented the Succession Planning Program within the Department, as well as Coaching and Mentoring
- HR is adequately funded to ensure gender specific programs like diversity training; GBV empowerment workshops; and programs to support no violence against women and children
- Monthly EE stats are provided throughout the Department to guide recruitment processes as well as provide transparent information on EE progress made in the Department to social partners as well.

Mrs. Kogie Chetty, HR: Director and Mrs Ronika Baldeo, Deputy Director: HR

4th PRINCIPLE: CREATING AN ENABLING ENVIRONMENT

Programme/project management tools and methodologies are gender responsive.

- Women's Day celebrations have taken place since 2007 in the Department COVID restrictions have impacted these in 2020, however in 2021 a virtual session was held with the MEC present;
- Candle lighting ceremonies are held annually in the 1st week of December to commemorate 16 days of activism against violence on women and children – compulsory attendance by all in the Dept. Normally addressed by MEC who lights the candle;
- Combined men's and women's workshops since 2015 dealing with social skills, relationship and health issues ensuring that both males and females are fully aware of the gender based challenges that each other face on a day to day basis.

Provincial Treasury female interns during a virtual commemoration of women's month in 2021.

5th PRINCIPLE: GENDER MAINSTREAM

Programme/project management tools and methodologies are gender responsive.

- All Recruitment and HRD initiatives support gender mainstreaming.
- SMS positions target females and succession planning programs target female MMS for SMS succession planning.
- All youth development initiatives such as internships; learnerships; external bursaries etc ensures that the intake percentage of females are far greater than males.
- Incorporate MTSF targets for vulnerable groups pertaining to RET set asides, and employment targets into Annual Performance Plan of Department.
- Facilitate training of SMS members on gender responsive budgeting and gender awareness to contribute towards mainstreaming of all Departmental programs.

6th PRINCIPLE: EMPOWERMENT

Various women empowerment strategies.

- Succession planning initiatives for scarce skilled SMS posts have been put in place for female MMS and SMS members ensuring employability into such posts.
- Annual economic empowerment sessions are incorporated into Women's Day events to ensure economic sustainability.
- Partnerships with private establishments like Cell C and Tracker have been forged to ensure commitment to youth development in the Province.
- Entire Department commits at least two hours to show support during the annual candle lighting ceremony against violence on women and children; and to also show our support and commitment to people with disabilities and those living with HIV & AIDS.
- All youth development program intakes have a higher percentage of females over males.

Female MMS and SMS members from various units in the department attended the HOD's meeting.

7th PRINCIPLE : PROVIDING ADEQUATE RESOURCES

Adequate human, physical and financial resources for advancing gender equality are available to the programme/project

All gender related issues are managed within the HR Policies and Strategies Unit

HR budget allocation is utilized to fund all projects and programs including those relating to gender mainstreaming and women empowerment.

8th PRINCIPLE: ACCOUNTABILITY, MONITORING AND EVALUATION

Accountability for mainstreaming gender in the programme/project is established.

- The 8 principle plan of Action is part of the HoDs performance agreement and work plan and is also assessed on the meeting of equity targets annually during the assessment of performance.
- Facilitation and M&E of all programs relating to gender issues, forms part of the HRM's performance agreement and work plan.
- Meeting of equity targets has been escalated as an APP deliverable for HR with indicators and targets per quarter.
- Quarterly monitoring and reporting of achievements against targets is managed through our quarterly implementation reports on HR strategies contained in the Departments MTEF HR Plan, which forms part of HRs quarterly performance reporting evidence.
- At a very strategic level HR reports annually to the DPSA on progress made on the implementation of the Job Access Strategic Framework and the Gender Equality Strategic Framework.
- Employment Equity Reporting (EEA2 and EEA4) is submitted annually to Department of Labour.

Mrs Tanya Stielau, Chief Director: Public Finance, and Ms. Nomthi Mjuza, Director: Public Finance.

NO MEANS NO – FIGHTING GENDER BASED VIOLENCE IN THE WORKPLACE

(Article by: Mr Herbert Ngcobo - Human Resources Labour Desk)

Treasury male employees taking a stand against GBV, Mr Herbert Ngcobo, Mr. Ayanda Ngcobo and Mr. Sifiso Ndaba.

GBV is a phenomenon deeply rooted in gender inequality, and is one of the notable human rights violations within all societies. Since GBV is violence directed against a person because of their gender, both women and men experience it, however, the majority of victims are women and girls (EIGE 08/29/22). GBV is a profound and widespread problem which impacts on almost every aspect of life. It can be attributed to normative roles and unequal power relationships between genders in a society.

GBV in relation to workplaces includes:

- Bullying, physical and verbal abuse from colleagues, supervisors or managers.
- Sexual harassment and unwanted sexual advances.
- Sexual abuse and violence, including 'coercive' or transactional sex, rape and sexual assault.
- Abuse and harassment around pregnancy.
- Psychological abuse and intimidation.
- Threats and acts of physical and sexual violence.
- Abusive working conditions such as poor health and safety (including building and equipment safety).
- Inadequate excessive or inappropriate sanitary facilities and rules about their use.
- Involuntary excessive long working hours and unpredictable or late demands to work overtime. (http://gbv.itcilo.org/index.php/briefing/show\_paragraph/id/63.html).

Sexual harassment, an unwelcome and offensive conduct of a sexual nature, is the most common form of GBV in workplaces. It makes the recipient thereof feel humiliated, intimidated or uncomfortable. Sexual harassment creates a climate of fear and physical as well as mental ill health, it may lead to workers taking sick leave, resigning or even leaving their jobs without giving notice. Sexual harassment in the workplace may take two forms: quid pro quo sexual harassment, demand for something in return for sexual favours, and hostile environment sexual harassment:

- Physical harassment: unwelcome touching, fondling, hugging or kissing.
  - Verbal harassment: sexually suggestive, offensive comments or jokes, inappropriate invitations to go out on dates, intrusive question/s/remarks, offensive questions about private life, intrusive comments about a woman's physical appearance.
  - Non-verbal harassment: inappropriate, intimidating staring or leering, receiving or being shown offensive, sexually explicit pictures, photos or gifts, indecent exposure, being made to watch or look at pornographic material against one's wishes.
  - Cyber harassment: receiving unwanted, offensive, sexually explicit emails or SMS messages; in appropriate, offensive advances on social networking web-sites or in internet chat rooms (https://gbv.itcilo.org/index.php/briefing/show\_paragraph/id/63.html).
- According to the MSF Medical Humanitarian Aid on 7 April 2020; the Minister of Police (during the lockdown period) announced that during the first week of the national lockdown, 30% more GBV cases were reported over the same period in 2019. The economic cost of GBV on employers is severe. According to the United Nations, as cited in https://gbv.itcilo.org/index.php/briefing/show\_paragraph/id/63.html, GBV impact negatively in the workplace through decreased productivity. The negative impact of GBV on our economy is enormous since women constitute an important stakeholder in the country's economy.

There is a need for a concerted effort by all to fight and defeat the scourge of GBV in the advancement of human rights.

The Department: KwaZulu-Natal Provincial Treasury, in its fight against the GBV scourge, has a dedicated email address: NO-MEANS-NO@KZNTREASURY.GOV.ZA on which such incidents can be reported and dealt with accordingly. Furthermore, the Department continuously empowers and sensitizes officials through articles and presentations on GBV issues.

Come on! stand up! Let's fight GBV in all its manifestations!

CELEBRATING A BUDDING FEMALE WRITER: MBALI MLABA, INTERN BOOK TITLE: I WAS NEVER IN A POSITION TO SURVIVE TEARTIRY, ARE YOU READY?

Mbali Mlaba, Ministerial Support Inten, shares her writing journey that led to her publishing her first book.

I am Mbali Mlaba and have published my book at 23 years on the 28 December 2019. I grew up in Sweetwaters, Pietermaritzburg, as a child that loved to express my thoughts and feelings through writing. Reading has always been my favourite because you cannot be a writer unless you read.

I believe that I have always been a writer, I used to write a lot during my school days. When I reached my university level I realised that only my family knew about my writings. I wanted to combine all my writings and publish a book. When I got a scholarship as an exchange student in Germany in 2018, that's when I started my book.

This book is a collection of my experience at university, it is like a survival guide for young people starting a university life. I wanted to teach those that are following me and those above me of the things that I was not ready for in university, things that I was not aware of which also includes decision making, taking care of yourself because you cannot always consult your family when it comes to decision making, you now need to grow up and be wise about making decisions.

Receiving a scholarship as an exchange student in Germany highly inspired me to start doing my passion and pen my experience. I was fortunate to be exposed to an education system that propelled me to write confidently.

I would highly recommend any young writer to start writing, give yourself an hour or so to start writing make it be your daily routine, you will slowly develop more love and passion.

POEM: "B" (If I Should Have a Daughter) by Sarah Kay, B

If I should have a daughter, instead of mom, she's going to call me Point B, because that way
she knows that no matter what happens, at least she can always find her way to me.

And I am going to paint the Solar Systems on the backs of her hands, so she has to learn the entire universe before she can say 'Oh, I know that like the back of my hand'

And she's going to learn that this life will hit you, hard, in the face, wait for you to get back up, just so it can kick you in the stomach but getting the wind knocked out of you is the only way to remind your lungs how much they like the taste of air.

There is hurt, fear that cannot be fixed by band aids or poetry so the first time she realizes that Wonder Woman isn't coming.

I'll make sure she knows she does not have to wear the cape all by herself because no matter how wide you stretch your fingers, your hands will always be too small to catch all the pain you want to heal.

And no matter how many landmines erupt in a minute be sure your mind lands on the beauty of this funny place called life.
And yes, on a scale from one to overtrusting, I am pretty damn naive.

But I want her to know that this world is made out of sugar.
It can crumble so easily.
But don't be afraid to stick your tongue out and taste it.
Baby, I'll tell her, remember your mama is a worrier
and your papa is a warrior.
